UTAH VOLLEYBALL

at the 2009 Collegiate Beach Nationals

Utah competed at the fourth annual Collegiate Beach Volleyball Championship in Riverside, Calif., last spring. The event was hosted by the CBS College Sports Network, AVCA and AVP and featured top-ranked participants like Hawaii, San Diego, Texas, Nebraska, North Carolina, USC and UC-Riverside.

"We were excited to participate in this event with so many top volleyball programs," Utah Head Coach Beth Launiere said. "Whether it's indoor or outdoor, we want to compete at the highest level possible. This is the premier outdoor event in the nation.

With the addition of sand volleyball as an NCAA sport, this is a great prelude to competing in the sand as NCAA competition in the future."

Crimson Court

Top-notch volleyball, a driving MUSS Student Section and band team with a raucous crowd to make Utah's Crimson Court one of the finest volleyball-only facilities in the nation.

One of the most intimidating competition venues in the country since 2000, Utah has racked up a 106-16 (.869) home record and has tallied a 60-7 (.896) mark in conference home matches during that span.

After a comprehensive renovation project, the court was officially dedicated on Sept. 9, 1994. It was christened with a win over Montana State and a marathon five-set victory over San Jose State in the Utah Classic.

The largest crowd ever recorded at Crimson Court assembled on Nov. 4, 2005, when unranked Utah delivered a 3-0 upset of No. 12 Brigham Young in front of 1,591 fans.

Utah set the single-season attendance record in 2001. The Utes hosted 12,020 fans over the course of 15 matches, averaging 801 fans per contest.

The fan-friendly Crimson Court is considered one of the finest facilities in the Mountain West Conference — a league that has quickly earned a reputation as one of the strongest in the country. Not only has it been a launching pad for the Utes' 10 NCAA Tournament appearances, but Crimson Court has also played host to the tournament, entertaining opening-round action in 2001 and again in 2005.

NCAA Tournament Success

With 10 appearances in the past 11 seasons, the University of Utah is no stranger to the NCAA Tournament. Since 1998, the Utes have become a fixture in the tournament and have developed a rich history of success in that short span.

"Every year we play a nationally-competitive schedule to prepare for the NCAA Tournament," head coach Beth Launiere says. "Our goal is to continue to go to the NCAA Tournament year in and year out."

The team has participated in the NCAA Tournament 10 times (1998-2006, 2008) and advanced to the second round eight times. The 2001 and 2008 teams both went 2-1 in the tournament, concluding each season with a loss in the Sweet 16. The Utes lost to eventual national champion Stanford to conclude the 2001 campaign, while the 2008 team saw its season come to a close at No. 5 Washington.

The Utes qualified for the NCAA Tournament for the first time in 1998 and advanced to the second round in each of their first three appearances.

The team's regional semifinal appearance in 2001 was the first time in Utah volleyball history that a team had advanced to regionals. The Utes topped Texas Tech, 3-0, and Utah State, 3-1, in the first and second rounds on Crimson Court. Utah fell to host Stanford, 3-1, in Palo Alto in the regional.

In 2003, Utah was down 0-2 to No. 13 Santa Clara in 2003 in the first round before rallying for a thrilling five-set victory. The following night, the Utes fell in three sets to host Washington.

Utah played host to the first and second rounds for the second time in 2005 after winning the Mountain West Conference's automatic bid.

The 2001 team reached the regional semifinals with wins over Texas Tech and Utah State.

The 2008 team advanced to the Sweet 16 with victories over Furman and Clemson.

Emillie Toone was one of 12 players from around the nation that USA Volleyball selected to be a part of a senior-level volleyball team that played in Egypt in April of 2009 as part of an exchange program involving the United States Olympic Committee and the Egyptian National Olympic Committee. U.S. Women's National Team head coach Hugh McCutcheon selected the team comprised of elite developmental athletes on the verge of being added to the U.S. Women's National Team. The USOC and the ENOC exchange program included an athletic component as well as a cultural component as part of an ongoing effort to build good relations between the USOC and African National Olympic Committees while promoting the sport in Africa. The team played two matches in Cairo against the Egyptian women's national team. Toone is currently playing professionally in Kamnik, Slovenia.

As one of the top collegiate senior volleyball players in the nation during the 2008 season, Lori Baird was selected to participate in the AVP All-Star Invitational Camp in Hermosa Beach, Calif., last spring. Baird trained with some of the top beach volleyball players in the world: Karch Kiraly, Kerri Walsh, and Holly McPeak.

University of Utah residence hall students live in a magnificent mountain setting. Heritage Commons, a living-learning community of 2,500 students, opened in 2000. It served as the Athletes Village during the 2002 Olympic Winter Games. The residential complex is the heart of campus activity and has a vibrant, energetic atmosphere.

Situated in historic Fort Douglas on 70 acres of land, the 912,000-square foot residential complex boasts picturesque views of Salt Lake City and the surrounding mountain ranges. Heritage Commons consists of 21 buildings (20 residential and one for dining and support services). Eight of the buildings are apartment style, with 235 one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments.

Each residence hall has an advanced telecommunications system (voice, video and data), Internet and cable TV connections, HBO in every room, a large community lounge, study rooms, indoor bike storage and a kitchenette on every floor. Other amenities include game and exercise rooms and computer labs.

The Chase N. Peterson Heritage Center is the hub of the student housing village and houses a central dining facility that seats 600, a convenience store, computer and technology labs, fitness and game rooms, multipurpose rooms, a mail center and more. The student village also contains a University Bookstore branch, University Copy Center and even a hotel—the University Guest House.

Transportation is another benefit of Heritage Commons. A U. of U. parking permit allows residents to park close to their hall, but a car is not necessary. Free campus shuttles run every 10 minutes and the Utah Transit Authority and light rail (TRAX), free to U. students, traverse 21 routes to and from campus. TRAX extends to downtown Salt Lake and outlying areas, with an airport spur in the works. The residence halls are also easily accessible to main campus by foot and are connected via the George S. Eccles 2002 Legacy Bridge.

- 1,534-acre campus
- School of Medicine
- School of Law
- School of Business

The University of Utah is a hub for higher education from the Rockies to the Sierras and boasts an academic reputation that is rivaled only by its breathtaking vistas. To the east rise the 11,500 foot, snow-capped peaks of the Wasatch Mountains. To the west, the Great Salt Lake shimmers beneath the Oquirrh Mountains. The 1,500-acre campus, nestled in the foothills of the Wasatch Mountains, is a beautiful collage of native and exotic trees, fountains, flowering malls and pedestrian walkways.

Founded in 1850, the University offers 100 undergraduate and 90 graduate majors. Academic opportunities at the U. include colleges of law, medicine, architecture, pharmacy, business and engineering. The U. also boasts the nation's first American Indian social work program. Utah draws its 29,000-plus student population from all 50 states and 114 foreign countries.

Utah ranks among the top 35 public research universities in the nation, with particular distinction in medicine, genetics and engineering. Scientists from the University of Utah have identified more genes with diseases than anywhere else in the world. University of Utah geneticist Mario R. Capecchi received the 2007 Nobel Prize in Physiology/Medicine for his work on gene targeting. Capecchi is one of many acclaimed faculty members. The U. ranks 30th among the nation's public research universities in significant awards to faculty.

Research Park, located on 320 acres adjacent to the campus, houses 42 companies and 69 university departments. Some of the more prominent residents of Research Park are the Huntsman Cancer Institute, the Howard Hughes Medical Institute, the Eccles Institute of Human Genetics, the Moran Eye Center and the Brain Institute. The Huntsman Cancer Institute has the largest genetic database in the world and is the only National Cancer Institute in the Intermountain West. Gene targeting was developed at the Eccles Institute. The Moran Eye Center is considered one of the top eye centers in the world.

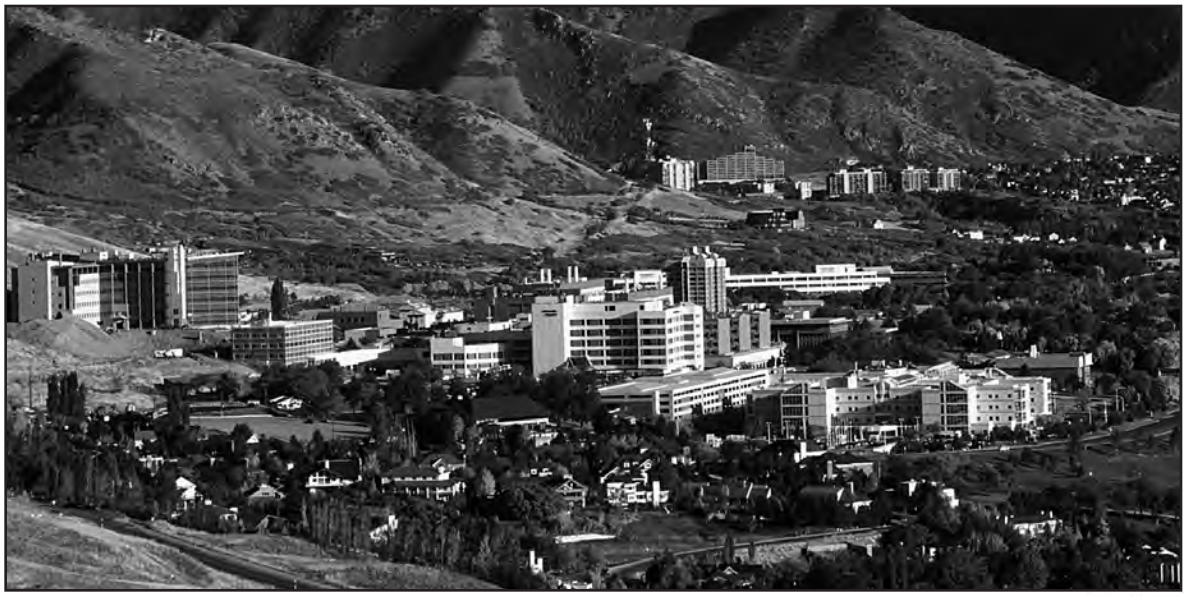
The University of Utah was ranked second in the nation in the most recent rankings of university startup companies based on scholarly research—behind only MIT. The U. spun off 23 companies for fiscal year 2008 and has created 59 companies in the last three years.

Several of the U. of U.'s colleges have also received favorable national rankings, among them the College of Pharmacy, which has been ranked in the top four in the nation since 1975.



The sprawling University of Utah medical center features the Huntsman Cancer Institute. It was opened in the fall of 1999 and was funded by a $225 million pledge from Utah businessman Jon M. Huntsman.

Salt Lake City

Salt Lake City, home to the University of Utah, merges the amenities of a major metropolitan area with beautiful natural surroundings. With 181,743 residents, Salt Lake City is the largest city in the state and its metro population of 1,333,914 ranks in the top 40 of U.S. cities. However, Salt Lake City maintains the charm of a small western city. Scenery, location, culture and recreational opportunities are some of the reasons why Salt Lake City was named "The Best City for Jobs in 2008" by prominent business publishing company Forbes.

One of the most beautiful cities in the world, Salt Lake City offers majestic views in all directions. To the east are the 11,500-foot peaks of the Wasatch Mountains ("mountains of many waters," as named by the Paiute Indians), which belong to the Rocky Mountain range. To the west soar the Oquirrh Mountains (pronounced Oaker and meaning "the shining mountains"). The lowest point within city boundaries is 4,210 feet near the Great Salt Lake, and the highest is Grandview Peak, at 9,410 feet. The Great Salt Lake—which is 48 miles wide and 90 miles long—is the world's second largest saltwater lake and the largest lake in the western United States.

Unique geography is just one of Salt Lake City's many qualities. The city boasts the nation's highest literacy rate, highest percentage of high school graduates and highest percentage of college-educated people.

Salt Lake City is the financial, educational, distribution, warehousing, commercial, cultural and communications hub of the Intermountain West. It is the center to world-renowned medical and technological industries.

Ten national parks and numerous state parks are within a few hours' drive of Salt Lake City.

Tourism is also a huge economic boon to the state, with the travel and tourism-related industries providing over 112,000 jobs.

Many of those employment opportunities are associated with the eight world-class ski resorts located less than 40 miles from downtown Salt Lake City, which served as host for the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

Cultural and ethnic activities flourish in Salt Lake City. Downtown is home to art galleries, professional symphony, opera, theater and dance, and is a scheduled stop for numerous Broadway shows. Ethnic festivals draw big crowds throughout the year.

Salt Lake City also joins forces with the nearby resort town of Park City, Utah, to host the annual Sundance Film Festival. Sundance is the largest independent film festival in the United States and attracts movie stars, celebrities, and thousands of film buffs to the area every year.

Professional sports are yet another source of entertainment. Pro franchises in Salt Lake City include the Utah Jazz (NBA), Real Salt Lake (Major League Soccer), Salt Lake Bees (AAA baseball) and Utah Grizzlies (East Coast Hockey League).

Recreational opportunities abound and there are 10 national parks within a day's drive from Salt Lake City. Fly fishing, backpacking, mountain biking and river running are popular activities. With four distinct seasons, a humidity average of 15 percent and sunny days, Salt Lake City offers pleasant weather conditions year round.

Salt Lake City's charms are easily accessible even to those visiting from out of state. Salt Lake International Airport is a two-and-a-half-hour flight for half of the United States' population. The airport is located just 15 minutes from the University of Utah.

Athlete Development

2009 Utah Volleyball

The Utah volleyball team has a variety of resources available to it to care for both the player's physical and mental well-being.

The Utes train in the new Alex Smith Strength and Conditioning Facility at the Dee Glen Smith Athletics Center. Smith, a quarterback for the San Francisco 49ers, donated $500,000 as the lead gift for the renovation and expansion of the existing strength and conditioning facility at his alma mater.

The current elite training facility has 16 full racks with Olympic platforms, a large dumbbell training area complete with 12 0-90 degree incline walk-up benches, and a large cardiovascular area complete with treadmills, cross trainers, stair steppers and spin bikes.

The strength and conditioning program concentrates on strength training, speed development, flexibility, mental toughness, conditioning, injury prevention and motivation. Under the direction of Doug Elisaia, the director of strength and conditioning, the volleyball program works with Assistant Director of Strength and Conditioning Jon Webster.

To care for the athlete's injuries, the Utah athletics program maintains a partnership with a veteran sports medicine team supervised by Dr. Bob Burks, director of the University of Utah Sports Medicine Center at Red Butte Clinic. The sports medicine staff is headed by director Trevor Jameson and associate trainer Deb Willardson, while the volleyball team works with Tom Lynch on a daily basis.

Other resources available to Utah volleyball players include a sports psychologist and nutritionist.

Utah Volleyball Looks to Step Up in 2009

Entering her 20th season at Utah, head coach Beth Launiere faces one of the biggest challenges of her career: replacing departed student-athletes Lori Baird, Kathryn Haynie and Emillie Toone. The trio accounted for 61% of the team's kills, 52% of the aces, and 39% of the blocks during Utah's NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 run last season. But Launiere, who owns a 391-212 record in 19 seasons at Utah, knows what it will take for her team to have another successful season in 2009.

"You don't lose that much talent and leadership and not have a void," Launiere said. "With that said, I firmly believe that people will step up. We saw that already this spring and we'll face more of those kinds of challenges in the fall. People will come through."

The Utes have six returning players who were key contributors last year, led by returning All-Mountain West Conference performer Karolina Bartkowiak. Middle blocker Chelsey Sandberg, libero Keisha Fisher, outside hitter Cinthia Silva and setters Stephanie Neeley and Abby Simmons all return to form a core of players who had major roles in last season's success and are looking forward to assuming even greater responsibilities this year.

"When you do lose a lot of veteran talent, it means that you're working with the younger players that much more," Launiere said. "The training and the attention really allowed us to make huge progress in the spring.

"We have the talent, but more than anything, our leadership and role development for this group will determine how much success we have this season," Launiere continued. "It's a matter of the players on this team stepping up. That's what this season is going to be about, and I believe they will."

"Chemistry doesn't just happen, we have to work at it and it's something we work hard at all the time in our program," Launiere said. "It's about communication, understanding and relating. Those are things that we will spend time building. It always begins with strong leadership."

Outside Hitter

Silva returns along with Sarah Hibbert while newcomer Brooke McAlister will also vie for playing time at the outside hitter position this season.

"There's going to be a good competition between the three of them," Launiere said. "I anticipate needing all three of them to perform this season."

Silva will be counted on for increased production after her first season at the NCAA Division I level. The San Paulo, Brazil native finished fourth on last year's team, averaging 1.99 kills per set, and was third with 2.25 digs per set. Silva saved some of her best performances for the end of last season and was selected to the 30th annual Pacific Bankers' Classic All-Tournament team. She averaged 2.57 kills per set on a .385 hitting percentage to go along with 3.00 digs and 1.14 blocks per set in the last two matches of the regular season against Nevada and at Pacific.

"It's going to be night and day for Cinthia from last season to this season," Launiere said. "She has adjusted in every aspect - on the volleyball court, academically, socially, and emotionally. She made such progress in the fall, but she made that much more in the spring. She's going to be ready to go."

Hibbert, a sophomore from Anchorage, Alaska, got her first taste of collegiate action in 2008, appearing in 23 sets while posting her best performance of the season in a road sweep at BYU: five kills with a .222 hitting percentage to go along with 10 digs and two blocks.

"[Hibbert] has a year under her belt now and got some playing time last season so we expect her to have a more significant role this season," Launiere said.

McAlister will be added to the mix this fall after putting together a tremendous prep career at Pleasant Grove High School, where she led her team to a runner-up finish at the 5A State Championship and a Region IV co-championship with a 31-2 overall record. Her performance landed a selection to the state championship all-tournament team as well as being named to the Utah high school all-state first team.

"[McAlister] is a tremendous talent and one of the top players in Utah," Launiere said. "She's very experienced in that position and has an all-around game. She is as good at passing and defense as she is at attacking and blocking."

Freshman Natalie Nichols will be counted on to provide depth for the Utes at the outside hitter position. The Salt Lake City native was an honorable mention all-state and all-region selection at Olympus High School and helped the team to the state tournament in 2008.

Setter

For the first time in several seasons, neither depth nor inexperience will be a problem for Utah at the setter position as both Neeley and Simmons come back while newcomer McKenzie Odale will work into the mix as well.

"It's pretty exciting to have three very good setters," Launiere said. "For the last couple of years, we've been inexperienced at the setting position, so we're thrilled to have that experience there as well as bringing in [Odale]. That's going to allow us to have good competition."

Neeley started 29 matches last season and ranked seventh in the MWC with 7.53 assists per set, including a career high 52 assists in a 3-1 win at New Mexico State Sept. 7. She surpassed the 30-assist mark in nine matches and also turned in career-highs of 19 digs and two service aces against then-No. 15 Purdue.

Karolina Bartkowiak earned All-MWC honors as a sophomore in 2008.

Chelsey Sandberg finished third on last year's team with 1.36 blocks per set.

Returning in 2009 ...

Kills (587/1,502)	39%
Karolina Bartkowiak	209 (2.01/s)
Cinthia Silva	207 (1.99/s)
Chelsey Sandberg	123 (1.35/s)
Assists (1,348/1,382)	98%
Stephanie Neeley	798 (7.53/s)
Abby Simmons	473 (5.09/s)
Digs (1,064/1,496)	71%
Keisha Fisher	393 (3.48/s)
Cinthia Silva	234 (2.25/s)
Stephanie Neeley	202 (1.91/s)
Aces (66/138)	48%
Keisha Fisher	22 (0.19/s)
Stephanie Neeley	20 (0.19/s)
Cinthia Silva	13 (0.12/s)
Blocks (318/628)	61%
Chelsey Sandberg	104 (1.14/s)
Karolina Bartkowiak	80 (0.77/s)
Cinthia Silva	50 (0.48/s)

Simmons saw significant playing time in 30 matches as part of a 6-2 offense during her freshman campaign and distributed a career-high 31 assists against Florida Gulf Coast and dished out a conference career-high 27 assists in the Nov. 14 win over BYU. She had at least 20 assists in eight matches and came up with a career-high 10 digs in Utah's win over No. 15 Colorado State.

"With the experience that Neeley brings as a two-year starter and [Simmons] has as a one-year starter, they have both been successful and proven themselves at a very high level," Launiere said.

"[Odale] is a tremendous athlete and all-around player who can now add to our talent level at the position as well. To go along with her setting abilities, she is a great defensive player and attacker."

Middle Blocker

The position group hit the hardest by the loss of Baird and Toone will be middle blocker. Sandberg, along with Miranda Bradshaw and Danielle Killpack, will be first in line to help fill the void.

"[Middle blocker] is the biggest position needing to be filled after losing [Toone] and [Baird]," Launiere said. "That position was a key for us in our spring training and all three of our returning players there improved so they're ready to go."

Sandberg played mostly on the right side last year but will move back into the middle in 2009. Sandberg ranked third on the team with 1.14 blocks per set last fall and led or tied for the team lead in blocks in six matches. She was also third on the squad after registering 1.36 blocks per set in 16 matches of conference play. The West Jordan, Utah native tied her career high with 11 blocks in Utah's three-set win at BYU.

After playing sparsely early in their Utah careers, Bradshaw and Killpack will both get opportunities to earn increased playing time this year.

"[Killpack] and [Bradshaw] have a great opportunity in front of them and they know it," Launiere said. "They're each working very hard to take advantage of it and have both improved a lot. They were a high priority of our practice planning and a lot of teaching went on because we put them in a lot of tough situations and they played in all of the spring tournaments. We tried to get them the experience that they need to be prepared for the fall."

Bartkowiak, an All-MWC selection last season, will play a larger role in Utah's offense and will be asked to increase her blocking production as well. Bartkowiak finished second in the MWC with a .356 hitting percentage and was fourth on the team with 1.83 kills per set.

"[Bartkowiak] comes into this season with a tremendous amount of experience," Launiere said. "Not only did we add sets to her game, but we increased her offensive load and she is learning how to handle that. She'll be ready for it this season."

Jennifer Lanting is also looking forward to increasing her role this season after appearing in 12 sets, totaling eight kills and four blocks, with a .316 hitting percentage last year. The Corcoran, Calif., native stepped up during the final two matches of the regular season, totaling three kills, three blocks and three digs in matches against Colorado State and Nevada.

"[Lanting] got a lot of experience at the end of last season and this spring," Launiere said. "She played almost all of the time in the spring and made really big strides. Her size is something that is valuable and as she becomes more versatile her role will increase."

Libero

After playing the setter position her freshman season, Fisher settled into her role as Utah's libero last season. The Ririe, Idaho native owned or tied for the team lead in digs in 20 matches last season, including a 21-dig performance against Furman that set a new school NCAA Tournament single-match record. With 33 digs at Colorado State, Fisher not only set a new career best, but recorded the second-highest single-match dig total in the MWC last year.

"The biggest thing [Fisher] improved on last year was developing her confidence and an attitude of taking control of her position in the back row," Launiere said.

Corinne Crump will be counted on to provide depth at the defensive position after appearing in 16 sets during nine matches as a freshman. A two-time first-team all-region selection at Alta High School, Crump made a smooth transition to the college ranks. She came up with a career-high five digs at New Mexico State and had three digs against Utah State in the Ute Invitational.

"[Crump] made some nice technical changes this offseason and is also playing with a lot more confidence," Launiere said.

Schedule

The Utes will be challenged with a difficult non-conference schedule to prepare themselves for the rigors of MWC play, including Pacific-10 Conference foes Arizona, Arizona State, Oregon, Washington State, BIG EAST Conference member Cincinnati, and Missouri of the Big XII Conference.

"I feel really strongly that you have to play a tough, competitive early-season schedule to prepare you [for conference play]," Launiere said. "We have to win some of these matches against a lot of good competition. It's a great schedule, featuring a lot teams in the top 10-30. Those are the teams we want to be playing and beating."

Utah begins MWC action with three straight home matches, starting Sept. 17 against Air Force, and the Utes expect a competitive league this season.

"[Perennial conference title contender] Colorado State lost a lot of talent due to graduation," Launiere said. "It's really up in the air. Last year, the conference was so dominated with strong seniors, but I don't see any teams who have that this year. BYU and New Mexico will have plenty of talent as will many other schools in the MWC."

Three-time AVCA West Region and Mountain West Conference Coach of the Year Beth Launiere has used her renowned competitiveness, work ethic and dedication to build the University of Utah volleyball team into a perennial contender on both the conference and national levels in 19 seasons.

Launiere (391-212, .648) took over in 1990, looking to straighten out a team that won only one match in 1989. In her 19 years, she has sculpted the Utes into a top-25 power and is nine wins away from her 400th career victory.

Ten times have the Utes qualified for the NCAA Tournament, winning six Mountain West Conference titles (regular season and tournament combined) and has recorded 13, 20-win seasons. For her efforts, Launiere has earned American Volleyball Coaches Association West Region (2001, '06, '08) and MWC (2004, '06, '08) Coach of the Year honors three times in her career.

Her ability to attract top-notch talent has helped take Utah to the forefront of the national scene. She has guided three Utes to All-America honors while eight have garnered all-region accolades. The 2005 freshman class was ranked the eighth-best in the nation by Volleyball Magazine. Many of her players have represented Utah internationally in various US Olympic Development programs.

As the current AVCA President, Launiere's impact on the sport goes well beyond the court. Since 2004, she has guided volleyball on the national stage as a member of the AVCA Board of Directors. She recently finished a three-year term as the Division I Coaches Volleyball Representative and prior to that served on the AVCA's All-America committee for five years.

On the court, Utah volleyball reached new heights in 2006. It set the school record for wins in a season (28), set the school and conference record for league wins (16) and became only the second MWC school ever to go undefeated in conference play. The team won a school-record 25 straight during the season and was ranked as high as ninth in the AVCA poll. Led by Emillie Toone, who finished second in the country in blocking, Utah led the nation in blocks (3.71). Launiere was voted both the MWC and AVCA West Region Coach of the Year for the second time in her career.

Since the beginning of the MWC in 1999, Utah has won three tournament championships (2001, '02, '05) and three regular-season titles (2004, '06, '08).

Utah has also been successful on a national level. In 10 NCAA Tournament appearances, the Utes have reached the second round eight times, with regional semifinal appearances in 2001 and 2008. In 2001, Utah fell to eventual national champion Stanford, 3-1. Utah was the only team to win a game against the Cardinal during the tournament.

Launiere led Utah to its first national ranking in 2000 after defeating No. 1 Stanford, 3-2, on Sept. 5, 2000. The next week, the Utes appeared in the Sept. 18th AVCA Top 25 poll, coming in at No. 18. Utah earned its highest ranking in school history on Sept. 2, 2002, when it was ranked eighth.

Head Coach Beth Launiere

Launiere arrived at Utah in 1990 and took over a team that had compiled a 1-32 record the previous year. Inspiring a turnaround in the program, she recorded Utah's first winning season in seven years (18-15) by her third year in 1992. Utah earned its first postseason berth in 1993, placing third in the NIVC. The Utes as a team and senior Mikki Kane-Barton led the nation in blocks that year, a first for any Western Athletic Conference team.

In addition to four AVCA All-Americans, 15 of Launiere's players have earned All-MWC accolades, while nine have been named all-region. Kim Turner (2002-03), Airial Salvo (2006) and Lori Baird (2008) were each named MWC Player of the Year. Launiere's recruits have also rewritten the record book, holding career records in kills, attempts, assists, aces, digs, total blocks and hitting efficiency. Several players have gone on to compete in the USA Volleyball system, including Turner, Salvo, Toone, Baird, Sydney Anderson, Lyndsey Henderson, Abby Simmons and Kelsie Kartchner. Danielle Leichliter trained overseas with Vanajan RC.

Prior to coming to Utah, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native was as an assistant coach at Illinois (1988-89). It went 57-12 during Launiere's stay and made it to two NCAA Tournaments, including a 1988 Final Four showing.

An assistant at Ferris State (Mich.) from 1985-87, Launiere helped the Bulldogs win three postseason bids and to a showing in the 1987 NCAA Division II Final Four.

Launiere graduated in 1985 from Aquinas College (Mich.). She earned a bachelor's degree in business administration and economics and has a master's in sports administration from Illinois.

Assistant Coaches

Heather Olmstead

Assistant Coach
4th Season

After helping Utah to a Sweet 16 appearance in the 2008 NCAA Tournament, Heather Olmstead was promoted to the first assistant coach position in February of 2009. Olmstead is entering her fourth season with the Utes after having previously spent three years as an assistant at Utah State.

In her first season at Utah in 2006, she helped lead the Utes to a 28-4 record, which included a 16-0 conference slate and a second-round NCAA Tournament appearance.

While on the Aggie staff, she helped guide the team to a 48-43 record, including a 21-13 record and an NCAA Tournament berth in 2005.

In addition to her collegiate coaching duties, Olmstead coached the IVA High Performance team at the 2006 Global Challenge in Maribor, Slovenia and coached the IVA HP Select Team in Florida last July.

Olmstead was a four-year starter for the Utah State women's volleyball team from 1998-2001 and finished her career second all-time in digs (981), sixth in sets played (412) and eighth in matches played (116). She also set the single-season record for digs during her senior year with 340.

She became the first defensive specialist in the history of the Big West Conference to be named first-team all-league in 2001. That season, the Aggies made it to the second round of the NCAA Tournament and ended the year ranked No. 21 in the country. She was also named an academic All-Big West selection three times and was named USU's scholar-athlete during her senior season.

After her collegiate career, Olmstead was the only libero in the country selected at the United States Professional Volleyball tryouts to compete in the 2002-03 season. In 2003, she played in the Professional Volleyball league in Europe before joining the Aggies' staff. During the summer of 2005, she coached with the Intermountain Volleyball Association High Performance team that participated in the Global Challenge.

Olmstead graduated from Utah State University in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in family and consumer science.

2008 Season Review

The Utah volleyball team went 26-6 overall and advanced to its second NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 in school history in 2008. The Utes also won their sixth overall Mountain West Conference title (regular season and tournament combined) in school history with a 14-2 league record, claiming the crown by two matches over Colorado State.

The Utes won two NCAA Tournament matches, starting with a first-round sweep of Furman. Three different Utes registered eight kills apiece as Utah earned a three-set win against the Paladins in the first round of the NCAA Tournament Dec. 5 at Clemson, S.C. In its second-round victory on Clemson's home floor, the Utes finished the match strong by hitting .636 in the third set and held a .304 to .115 edge in the match overall to help Utah earn its second tournament victory with a 3-0 win (25-21, 26-24, 25-21) against the Tigers Dec. 6.

Unfortunately, Utah's NCAA Tournament run came to an end after losing to Washington in three sets during a Seattle Regional semifinal match at Bank One Arena on Dec. 12.

After receiving votes for the first nine weeks of the Bison/AVCA Coaches Poll, the Utes earned their first national ranking on Nov. 3, at No. 24. Utah improved one spot for the next three weeks until jumping three spots to No. 18 in the latest rankings.

After starting the MWC season with a pair of road losses at then-No. 15 Colorado State and Wyoming, Utah took 14 consecutive conference victories to win the conference regular-season title.

During this stretch, Utah outblocked its opponents 3.46 to 2.02 and held the opposition to a .128 hitting percentage, while converting at a .268 clip.

In all 26 of their wins, the Utes posted a higher hitting percentage than their opponents. Emillie Toone finished 12th nationally this season with a .393 mark. She finished third on the team with 252 kills and only 50 errors on 514 swings. Toone ends her career as the school's all-time hitting percentage leader (.345) and reset her own single-season school record in 2008 (.393).

Utah's departing senior class left its mark in nearly every statistical category of the school's record book.

Lori Baird was named the MWC Co-Player of the Year, while head coach Beth Launiere was the MWC and AVCA West Region Coach of the Year. Toone joined Baird on the AVCA All-West Region and All-MWC teams.

Baird led the team with 1.39 blocks per set and ended her career second in school history with 584 block assists and third with 631 career total blocks. As a team, the Utes were fifth in the country in blocking in the Dec. 14 edition of the NCAA statistics with 2.96 blocks per set. Baird also finished third in school history with a .307 hitting percentage, eighth in aces (106), matches played (125), ninth in attempts (2,825).

Toone averaged 1.37 blocks per set and is second in Utah history with 635 career total blocks. Toone is also third in the school record books at 578 block assists and is tied in ninth place with 53 career solo blocks. She is sixth in Utah history in matches played (127) and tied for ninth in solo blocks (53). Haynie leaves Utah eighth in school history with 1,173 kills and 3,031 attack attempts.

Baird and Kathryn Haynie became the first duo of Ute teammates to have more than 1,000 career kills at the same time in school history. Baird finished seventh in school history with 1,236 career kills, followed by Haynie in eighth place with 1,173.

In individual accolades, Baird was named the MWC Co-Player of the Year, while Haynie, Toone, and Karolina Bartkowiak joined Baird on the All-MWC team. In other MWC awards, Baird and Toone claimed seven MWC Player of the Week awards in nine weeks from Oct. 6 to Dec. 1. Baird won the award twice in Oct., twice in Nov. and again on Dec. 1. Toone was named MWC Co-Player of the Week on Oct. 13 and Nov. 3.

Kathryn Haynie finished her career eighth in school history with 1,173 kills.
